1	Thesis background and research structure	1
1.1	Introduction	2
1.2	Research motivation	2
1.3	Research topic and research objectives	3
1.3.1	Integration and global sourcing success: a social capital perspective	3
1.3.2	Developing a method to assess competition in industrial markets	5
1.3.3	Price-reducing effects of competitive pressure	6
1.3.4	Uncovering indirect, competition-increasing global sourcing effects	7
1.3.5	The persistency of indirect, competition-increasing global sourcing effects	8
1.4	Research approach and thesis structure	8
1.4.1	Research environment	8
1.4.2	Methodology	10
1.4.3	Thesis outline	11
2	Integration and global sourcing success: a social capital perspective	13
2.1	Introduction	14
2.2	Theoretical considerations	15
2.2.1	Global sourcing and the internal – external integration link	15
2.2.2	Social capital theory	16
2.2.3	Hypotheses	19
2.3	Research methodology	22
2.3.1	Data collection	22
2.3.2	Measures	23
2.3.3	Analysis approach and psychometric properties	24
2.4	Findings	25
2.5	Discussion	26
2.6	Implications for managers	28
2.7	Conclusion	29
2.8	Abstract for journal / keywords	31
2.9	Appendix – Measures	32
3	Developing a method to assess competition in industrial markets	33
3.1	Introduction	34
3.2	Theoretical background	35
3.2.1	Reasons for homogeneous product price dispersion	35

3.2.2	Price dispersion as a measure for competition in industrial markets.....	37
3.3	Recommended measurement of price dispersion in B2B environments.....	39
3.3.1	Comparing different measures of price dispersion – a thought experiment.....	39
3.3.2	Distinguishing between transaction and listed prices.....	42
3.4	Implications and future research directions.....	43
3.5	Conclusion.....	45
3.6	Abstract for journal / keywords.....	46
4	Price-reducing effects of competitive pressure	47
4.1	Introduction.....	48
4.2	Competitive dynamics.....	49
4.3	Hypotheses.....	50
4.4	Methodology.....	53
4.5	Analyses and Results.....	55
4.6	Discussion.....	60
4.7	Implications for theory and practice.....	63
4.8	Limitations and future research directions.....	64
4.9	Conclusion.....	65
4.10	Abstract for journal / keywords.....	66
5	Uncovering indirect, competition-increasing global sourcing effects	67
5.1	Introduction.....	68
5.2	Competitive dynamics.....	70
5.3	Hypotheses.....	71
5.4	Methodological approach.....	74
5.5	Measurement and data analysis.....	78
5.6	Results.....	79
5.6.1	Direct global sourcing effects.....	79
5.6.2	Indirect global sourcing effects.....	81
5.7	Discussion.....	85
5.8	Implications for theory and practice.....	87
5.9	Limitations and future research directions.....	88
5.10	Conclusion.....	89
5.11	Abstract for journal / keywords.....	90
6	The persistency of indirect, competition-increasing global sourcing effects	91
6.1	Introduction.....	92
6.2	Competitive dynamics.....	93
6.3	Hypotheses.....	95

6.4	Methodology	99
6.4.1	Data collection	99
6.4.2	Data processing	99
6.4.3	Variables and measurement	101
6.4.3.1	The dependent variable – price dispersion as a measure for competitive pressure.....	101
6.4.3.2	Independent variables	102
6.4.3.3	Control variables.....	103
6.5	Analysis and results.....	104
6.5.1	Multiple linear regression as method of choice	104
6.5.2	Results of the statistical analysis	105
6.5.2.1	Results of testing H1.....	105
6.5.2.2	Results of testing H2.....	107
6.5.2.3	Results of testing H3.....	109
6.6	Discussion	111
6.7	Implications for theory and practice	114
6.8	Limitations and future research directions	115
6.9	Conclusion.....	116
6.10	Abstract for journal / keywords.....	117
7	Discussion.....	118
7.1	Introduction.....	119
7.2	Main findings.....	119
7.3	Implications and contributions.....	121
7.3.1	Implications from chapter two	121
7.3.2	Implications from chapter three.....	123
7.3.3	Implications from chapter four.....	124
7.3.4	Implications from chapter five	126
7.3.5	Implications from chapter six	127
7.4	Limitations and further research	128
8	Academic output per chapter.....	133
9	Bibliography	136
10	Samenvatting (Summary in Dutch).....	165
