

CONTENTS

PREAMBLE

National Ambitions, Regional Geopolitics, Soft Power Impacts

William W. Kelly

1

PROLOGUE

New East Asia: New Media Images, New Nationalisms

Tianwei Ren

7

CHINA

1. The Nationalist Construction of Chinese Olympians: Media, Change, Reform

Richard Xiaoqian Hu and Junjian Liang

17

2. A Special Salience: Media, Iconography, Nationalism: Modern Chinese Olympic Games and Heroes as Soft Power ‘Projectiles’

Tianwei Ren

49

3. National Renaissance, International Assertion, New Global Image: China and the Modern Olympic Games: Media Opportunities for the Projection of a Forceful Nationalism

Ying Jiang

83

JAPAN

4. Democracy through the Lens of Sports Journalism: Japan and the East Asian Olympic Games

Keiko Ikeda

105

5. Media Representation Transformed: from Unconditional Affirmation to Critical Consideration: The Tokyo Olympics 1964 and 2020

Christian Tagsold

119

6. Continuity or Change: After the Tokyo Olympic Games 1964: Exploring the Tokyo Games 2020 through various Critical Reviews

Tyrel Eskelson

135

SOUTH KOREA

- 7. Is It the Same Olympic Games? Comparison between 1988 Seoul Summer Olympics and 2018 PyeongChang Winter Olympic Games
Chang Wan Woo and Mikyung Bae 159
- 8. Korea's Democratic Movement and the Seoul Olympic Games: Nationalism or Olympic Movement
Mikyung Bae and Chang Wan Woo 181
- 9. Seoul 1988: Making of a Nation –the Media and a Mega-Event
Kyoungho Park and Gwang Ok 201

INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES

- 10. Programming China's Image through the Beijing Olympics: A Comparison of Chinese and Taiwanese Television Broadcasts of the 2008 Beijing Olympics Opening Ceremony
Florian Schneider 227
- 11. Soft Power Projection via the Olympic Games: Sport as Geopolitical Diplomacy
Paul Michael Brannagan and Jonathan Grix 251
- 12. The Beijing Olympics: Retrospective Reflection on the Impact of the Global Media
Susan Brownell 269

EPILOGUE

- Media, Soft Power, Olympic Images: Eastern Renaissance
Tianwei Ren 293

CODA

- A Tribute in Honour of Professor J.A.Mangan's Contribution to East Asian Studies
Tianwei Ren 299